

The Boy and The Dog

IC Ng Sin Yiu Yoyo and Law Chi Wai Tommy

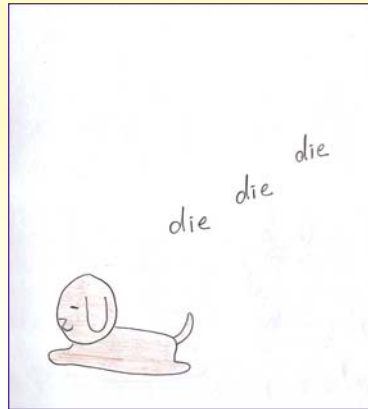

Once upon a time there were a boy and a dog. They lived happily and the boy loved his dog very much.

1

The boy was called Tony and the dog was called Bobby. They played together every day.

2

Suddenly, Bobby was sick and then he died.

3

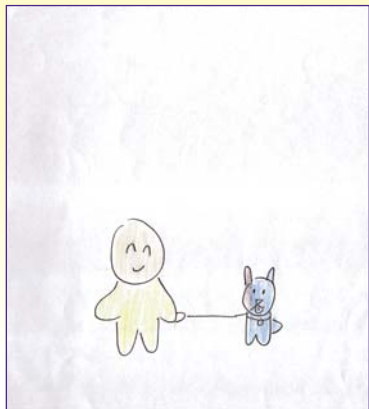

Bobby was dead and Tommy felt very sad.

4

‘Although Bobby is dead, I will love him forever,’ Tommy said.

5

Finally, Tony had a new dog to live with him and they were happy.

Bulu is a silly boy who wants to be a pirate.

One day, he sailed on a big pirate ship.

He was playing on the pirate ship...

He fell into the sea ... So, he swam back to his ship. He saw an island.

4

On the island, he saw a lot of money in a big box. But around the island, there were many sharks and he didn't have the ship, so he couldn't get away.

5

Then he had a good (silly) idea. He gave some money to the shark. The shark ate the money and he could swim away.

The Boy and Princess

1C Mo Jeffy Wing Hei Momo & Wong Kwan Yui Crystal

Once upon a time, there was a boy and a princess who grew up together. They loved each other and were very happy.

1

The princess wanted to marry the boy, but the princess' mother said they could not do it.

2

The princess' mother wanted her to marry a prince.

3

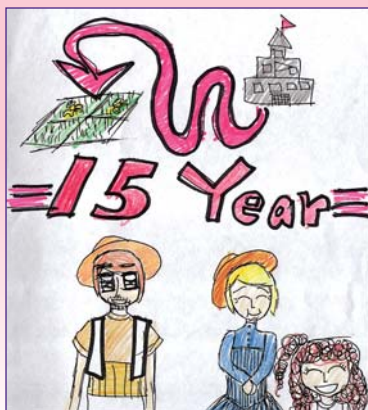

After that, they didn't speak to each other because the princess was getting married to the prince. One day, the boy and the princess wanted to see each other so they met.

4

When they met, the boy had an idea. That night, they ran away together, so the Queen couldn't find them.

5

They ran away to a poor village and they started a new life after they married. After 15 years, the boy was a father and the princess was a mother. They had a daughter called 'Princess'. They had a beautiful life.

The Safari Park

2A Lam Yuen Fung Toby

In a big, famous zoo, there was an elephant called Tim. There was also a lion called Tom. They were good friends.

Tim was a really big elephant. It was the fattest animal in the zoo. It had thick legs. It had peaked and short ivories. He never brushed his teeth, he had a decayed tooth.

Do you think living in a zoo is very comfortable? I think so. The zoo has a lot of people to take care of you and you can enjoy big meals every day. But Tim always wanted to go out of the zoo. He often thought the ways to go outside. He believed the world outside was better than the zoo. He had even used a spoon to make a tunnel to go out. Surely, it didn't work.

Tim had a good friend called Tom. Tom was a real lion. He was the strongest animal in the zoo. It had special teeth because he liked eating vegetable more than meat. Have you ever seen a lion like him? I doubt it. Tom was different. He enjoyed staying in the zoo because he thought the forest was dangerous. Do you think so? I think so.

One day, the zoo had a new animal. That was a leopard. She came from the forest. She was a female. But she was the same as the elephant. She wanted to go home. Then the story began. Her name was Sally.

At the dark night, the elephant and leopard decided to go outside. When they were talking about the plan, the lion overheard them and learnt that they wanted to go outside at one o'clock.

At one o'clock, Tim and Sally opened the cage and ran away. When they reached the exit of the zoo, Tom was already in there. Tom said, 'don't go out, the world outside is terrible and dangerous. Don't leave!' 'No way, I have wanted to go out for a long time. Now I have the chance. Why can't I?' They had debated for a long time. They fought against each other too. 'Stop it!' Sally screamed. The sound of Sally woke the zoo-keepers up. All administrators came to the exit. The zoo-keepers used drugs to make them sleep.

When they were sleeping, the people put them into a safari park but they didn't know it.

After a long time, they woke up. They were very surprised. Tom was very sad because he thought he was not in the zoo. He could never eat vegetables with eggs (That was his favourite food). But Tim was very happy because his dream had come true. Sally was happy too because she was back home. That was just like a forest.

The next day, they explored the place. They ran to the borderline of the zoo. When they went to the borderline, they saw a lot of people and houses. Then they saw an animal. They asked it, 'where are we?' The animals answered, 'this is a safari park.' Tom was very happy because this was a zoo too and he could eat good things again. Tim and Sally were unhappy at first but they then felt happy because this place was just like a forest and they did not have to stay in a cage anymore.

Helping People

2A Cheung Yeuk Yu Winnie

Tom and Peter are best friends. They always do many things together, such as going to school in the morning, eating noodles at lunch, watching action films and chatting on ICQ. No one can separate them.

One day, Mr. Ng, the Principal, announced an exciting treasure hunt. Two students would have to find the treasure in a pair. The treasure was worth two thousand dollars. If they could find it, two thousand dollars would belong to them. The important thing in the activity was to exercise esprit de corps.

Tom and Peter thought this activity was meaningful, so they wanted to join it after Mr. Ng had finished the announcement.

Tom is a naughty student in this school. He never brought his homework and textbooks to school, so many teachers like Miss Wong always asked him angrily, 'where's your homework?' Tom only answered, 'Okay!' I will bring it tomorrow. But the next day, he still did not bring it.

Tom was a very handsome boy. He had big black eyes and brown hair. He usually made fun of his classmates. So the classmates were unhappy and said ' Oh no! I need to ask the class teacher to change to another seat to stay away from Tom.'

Actually, Tom was very popular at first because he was very handsome, but he was not polite to people including his family, teachers, and his best friend, Peter. Peter was very patient with Tom.

On the other hand, Peter was an excellent and clever student. He always read many different kinds of books. He learnt quickly, so all teachers like to teach him.

Owing to Peter's good results, other students hated and envied him, sometimes they fought with Peter. Luckily, Peter's best friend, Tom, helped Peter settle these arguments.

'One, two, three, start' the judge shouted. Then three groups started to find the treasure quickly. They needed to answer difficulties questions. If their answers were correct, they would be given the hints about where the treasure was. Tom and Peter walked across the dark forest, and went to the beach. The beach was very special, so it was not easy for them to find the treasures.

Reading the prompt in hand, Peter thought over it again and again. Suddenly, he got the answer.

They walked along and then used a shovel to dig the soil. The treasure was under the soil. They found and opened it. They saw two-thousand dollars. They felt very delighted and proud of themselves. After the activity, Tom and Peter were not sure how to use the money. Peter wanted to donate it to charities but Tom wanted to buy a PSP.

At last, Peter said to Tom, 'donation is meaningful. It can help the poor people with what they need to live but we do not need a PSP to live.' Peter looked for Tom's approval. Tom pondered for a long time and said, 'That's fine. I think your idea is better than mine. So, they donated the money to a charitable organization called AAB help.

The two-thousand dollars helped more than 1000 poor people. The chairman of AAB help thanked Peter and Tom wholeheartedly. Money makes you happy, popular and satisfied when helping people in need.
