I think organ donation can help many people because many patients need the organs in order to live. If you die, you don't need the organ, and if you give your organ to them, you can help them.

You should take the initiative right away to donate your organs because you never know when you will die. You should quickly get a donation card and sign it. I think it is very important to help people.

Organ donation can make people happy, too. This is because, if your parents die, you will be very devastated, but organ donation can help people and they won't die, so their parents will be happy.
